About the Listings

This information sheet includes charts of local equipment outlets and their products so that if you are looking for a particular item you will be able to see at a glance where you can purchase it. If you are looking for a manual wheelchair, for example, you will be able to see from the charts that most suppliers stock these, whereas only a few keep stairlifts in stock. Further details of each of the suppliers in the charts are given on pages 16-23.

Most of the categories of products in the charts are self-explanatory but some of them require further explanation. Please find these listed below:

- Mobility aids refers to equipment such as Zimmer frames, walkers, etc.
- Leisure equipment refers to aids such as large print playing cards, automatic hand threaders and folding book and magazine stands.

- Bedroom equipment includes over bed tables, adjustable side rails, bed raisers, and bed rope ladders.
- Footwear includes shoes that are wide fitting and easy fastening.
- Clothing would include ponchos, trousers that can be pulled on and wrap-over skirts.

This information sheet gives details of:

- assistive equipment suppliers in and near to Torbay
- suppliers of special beds and seating
- providers of advice on assistive equipment and consumer issues
- mail order and online catalogues.

There are other suppliers in Devon and Plymouth. Visit Pinpoint Devon at www.pinpointdevon.co.uk and Plymouth Online Directory at www.plymouthonlinedirectory.com for details of these.

This sheet also covers buying and selling new and used disability equipment.

- For information on bathing and showering equipment, refer to P02, Bathing and Showering.
- For information on community alarms and other telecare systems, please refer to Telecare (P04).
- For information on equipment hire, please refer to the - Equipment Hire and Loan Services sheet (P08).
- For information on stairlifts, please refer to P19, Stairlifts and Vertical Lifts.
- For information on continence management, please refer to P24, Continence Management.

Please note that this information sheet is mainly for people with physical disabilities.

Nebulisers

Nebulisers are not included in the categories within the equipment charts in this information sheet. Nebulisers are specialised medical equipment, and you should never buy or hire one unless your doctor has advised you that you need to use one. For advice about nebulisers, where to obtain them and VAT exemption, contact the British Lung Foundation's helpline on 03000 030 555 (Monday to Friday 9.00 am to 5.00 pm). There is also information about nebulisers on the British Lung Foundation website at: www.blf.org.uk/support-for-you/nebulisers

Local Advice and Assessment

Further Support

For information and advice about further support, please contact Torbay Adult Social Care Services on (01803) 219700 to discuss your concerns. If you live outside Torbay contact Care Direct on 0345 155 1007.

Information and Advice

For information and advice on what equipment/small aids might be useful to you, you can use the Safe+Well service. Safe+Well is a service run by NRS Healthcare. Its telephone and online advice services are free to you. There are a number of ways that you can access their advice. You can complete the online questionnaire at www.safeandwell.co.uk/torbay , or you can email them for advice on torbay@safeandwell.co.uk You can alternatively call them on 0345 646 1860 (limited hours only) and speak to one of their advisers with the potential of speaking with an occupational therapist. They will support you with identifying what may meet your needs and how to purchase these items for yourself by signposting you either to one of our local retailers or through NRS directly.

If you feel unable to meet your needs using this route, please contact the Trust for an assessment of needs.

An occupational therapist assesses and treats physical and mental conditions using specific, purposeful activity to prevent disability and to aid independent function in all areas of daily life. Their practice can range from adapting household items so that people can use them to teaching those with mental health problems various ways to cope. Occupational therapists are problem solvers who help people to take control of their own lives.

An assessment by an occupational therapist from Torbay and South Devon NHS Foundation Trust will help to find out what the best and safest equipment is for you. They will be able to advise you on various solutions and on the choice, use of, and fitting of equipment aids. If you are attending the hospital, you may be able to have an assessment from an occupational therapist there and try out some equipment. It is worth bearing in mind, though, that you may have to wait some time to have an assessment from Torbay and South Devon NHS Foundation Trust.

Equipment Prescriptions

If, following an assessment by the Trust, simple aids to daily living are prescribed (eg. grab rails, bath boards and walking frames), an equipment prescription will be issued which can be used at retailers in Torbay that belong to the Equipment Prescriptions Scheme.

Retailers in Torbay belonging to the Equipment Prescriptions Scheme include a number of disability equipment shops and pharmacies - a list of retailers in the scheme will be given to you and you can purchase your equipment at the retailer of your choice. Equipment prescriptions are redeemed at no cost to you, although you can upgrade if you pay a 'top up' fee. NB. All members of the Equipment Prescriptions Scheme display a 'Trusted Provider of Aids to Daily Living' logo.

The Care Act 2014

The rules about getting and paying for social care started to change with the introduction of the Care Act in April 2015. To find out more about the Care Act and how it may affect you, please refer to the following pages on our Trust's website: www.torbayandsouthdevon.nhs.uk/services/adult-social-care - these include a link to Independent Age's information about getting help with your care needs. Torbay Home Improvement Agency (HIA)

Torbay HIA assists older, disabled and vulnerable people who live in Torbay. The service can help clients who need assistance to adapt their home, enabling them to remain safe and independent. They may be able to help people to arrange works funded through a Disabled Facilities Grant, subject to a financial assessment and eligibility checks, that may be available to cover some or all of the cost of the works. The Service liaises closely with Occupational Therapists from Torbay and South Devon NHS Foundation Trust as an assessment will be necessary to determine whether clients qualify for an adaptation. NB. There is no showroom.

Contact: Anyone who may require a Disabled Facilities Grant should self- refer for an OT assessment via (01803) 219700. Torbay HIA is now part of Torbay Council and can be contacted for general advice on (01803) 208020.

VAT Relief

Purchases and installation of specialist equipment for daily living can be exempt from VAT if a declaration is signed by a disabled person and given to the supplier at the time of purchase (before making payment). The person doesn't need to be registered disabled in order to qualify. Also, people who don't have a disability but are aged 60 or over can claim a reduced rate of VAT for certain mobility aids that are installed in their home by the supplier (grab rails, ramps, stair lifts, bath lifts, built-in shower seats or showers containing built-in shower seats and walk-in baths with sealable doors).

How to Claim VAT Relief

Making a declaration at the time is all you have to do to claim exemption. There is NO official form, but suggested templates for the declaration are included in VAT Notice 701/7: VAT Reliefs for Disabled and Older People, available online at: www.gov.uk/government/publications/vat-notice-7017-vat-reliefs-for-disabled-people NB. Assistive equipment centres are usually well aware of the rules and have their own forms.

Further Information and Advice

For information and advice on the VAT reliefs available for people with disabilities and older people, contact the VAT Disabled Reliefs Helpline on 0300 123 1073. You can also refer to VAT notice 701/7 (see above).

The next Naidex exhibition in Birmingham will be held from 6-7 July 2022. The exhibition generally includes a section on equipment for children. For further details, contact the Naidex team on 0208 126 4852 or visit www.naidex.co.uk

Consumer Advice and Services

For consumer advice, contact the Citizens Advice Consumer Helpline (formerly Consumer Direct) on 0808 223 1133 or, if you can't speak or hear on the phone, via Relay UK on 18001 0808 223 1133. Also, before buying please note the general advice below:

Do lots of research before buying. Shop around to find the best deal but remember cheapest isn't always best. Customer service has to be paid for.

If a representative visits you make sure you have someone you can trust with you for support and to witness any claims that are made. Also, check if they are a member of the Direct Selling Association (www.dsa.org.uk) as they have a code of practice for consumers. NB. New regulations extend the cancellation period for contracts made in your home to 14 days. The cancellation period for sales contracts begins from the date when goods are received. However, beware of doorstep selling – always check the identity of callers and do not open the door to anyone unknown to you.

Consider buying from a member of the British Healthcare Trades Association (www.bhta.com) as they have a code of practice and may be able to help in cases of dispute with a member.

If you use a company whose premises you can visit you will receive a more personal service than if you telephone a customer care help line. Check how long the company has been trading. Make sure the seller knows exactly what your needs are.

Don't sign anything until you are sure you have read everything. It's a good idea not to sign on the day. Also never sign a blank or partly completed form. Insist on a full copy of everything you sign. Make sure that any special requirements or promises given by the seller are written into the contract on the receipt.

Consider paying for goods over £100 with a credit card if you have one, even if you pay it off immediately – credit card companies are jointly liable for purchases.

Don't assume you have a cooling off period – it is safest to assume that any contract is binding unless you are given the right to cancel in writing.

If you have a complaint

If you can, stop using the item of equipment. Take photographs, if relevant. Be sure the fault was not caused by misuse, an accident, normal wear and tear or by not following the care label. If the dealer is local, go back to them as soon as possible, taking the receipt or other proof of purchase with you.

If you can't go back to the retailer, either phone or write a letter, briefly setting out the problem and ask the trader to get in touch with you. Include a copy of your proof of buying – don't send originals.

Say what you want done – refund, repair or compensation. Set a deadline. You may ask, or the seller may arrange, for someone to come and have a look within a reasonable time, say 7-14 days. This could be someone from the shop or the manufacturer. Make a note of the person's name, where they are from and anything they say about the problem.

Keep copies of all letters, both sent and received.

If you are not satisfied with the response

Be especially careful about withholding payment if you have a credit agreement.

Put your complaint in writing. If the shop is part of a chain send a copy of the letter to the head office. Send your letter by recorded delivery.

If the seller asks for more information be as helpful as you can. If you don't get a reply, send a reminder by recorded delivery, with a copy of your last letter. If the seller offers something that is not what you have asked for, you can accept the offer or negotiate for a better offer.

Be reasonable. You may need to compromise.

Keep copies of all letters, both sent and received.

Advice about buying and insuring a Scooter or Powered Wheelchair

There are a number of factors to take into account if you are thinking of buying a mobility scooter or powered wheelchair, including types of products available, methods of purchase, funding and insurance. For comprehensive advice, refer to RiDC's guides on Mobility Scooters and 'Getting a Powered Wheelchair', available on the RiDC (Research Institute for Disabled Consumers) website at www.ridc.org.uk NB. The RiDC no longer sends out printed guides.

Insurance for Mobility Scooters

There is currently no legal requirement to insure a mobility scooter or powered wheelchair. However, it is advisable to have at least:

- cover for personal safety
- cover for the scooter itself (to cover the cost of repairs or replacement in the event of an accident or theft) and

- third party insurance to cover the costs of any claim made by another person in the event of the mobility scooter causing damage to themselves, their vehicle or their property.

For a Class 2 mobility scooter, for use on pavements only, a household policy may provide cover. Many insurers, such as Aviva, HomeProtect and Co-op, may be able to cover class 2 mobility scooters at no extra cost (depending on the price of the scooter). However, be aware that most household policies exclude accidents involving powered vehicles.

It's vital to check your policy gives adequate cover for the scooter and third party liability, and also that it notes and includes the scooter separately.

Specialist insurance policies for mobility scooters offer similar cover to the above and a few extras, including getting the driver and scooter home after a breakdown, meeting the cost of lost keys and some overseas travel.

Companies that offer these policies include the following:

Buying or selling used Disability Equipment

If you are buying

There are a number of things to think about if you are buying used equipment –

- Will it meet your needs or those of the intended user?
- Does the equipment actually work properly?
- Do you know if the original dealer or manufacturer still exists? There could be problems with getting spare parts if the manufacturer has gone out of business.

If you are buying a wheelchair for permanent use, especially if it is to be used indoors, it is advisable to seek an independent professional assessment, as not all wheelchairs will be suitable.

Before you buy a scooter or power chair, think about where it's going to be stored when not in use –

- Are there any access problems? An electric wheelchair or scooter might operate smoothly on the level, but how does it perform on steep hills?
- What about the batteries? How old are they? What is the likely cost of replacements?

Try to get independent information and think carefully before you make a purchase.

• Consumer Rights

Buying secondhand goods from a trader or retailer

You have the same rights when buying secondhand goods from any kind of trader or retailer as when buying new goods. You can still claim your money back if they are faulty, unless the fault is obvious or pointed out to you at the time, or if it is a fault that is to be expected with secondhand items.

Buying secondhand goods from a private individual

If buying privately you have fewer rights: the only rule is that what you are buying must be as described – if not, ask for your money back straight away. It will help to take someone with you to act as a witness to any conversations. For advice about consumer rights contact Citizens Advice Consumer Service (see page 31 for contact details).

Buying online

If you are buying from a private seller the same rules as above apply. However, if you are buying from a trader you are also covered by the Consumer Contracts Regulations (which replaced the Distance Selling Regulations in June 2014). This gives you extra rights, including:

- A right to clear information about the seller, the goods/services offered and all other aspects of the sale
- A minimum cancellation period of 14 days from receiving the goods to change your mind. When buying several items, which are then sent out separately, the 14 days doesn't start until the final item has been delivered. NB. The trader is entitled to request that any goods returned are sent back in exactly the same condition as when they were received, ie. unopened and unused.

NB. Sites like eBay and Gumtree don't count as traders unless you are buying from a trader rather than a private individual. If in doubt check the seller's profile: that should state whether or not they are a business seller.

Payment Protection

Using a credit card or PayPal offers extra protection for your payments.

PayPal will help buyers get a full refund for the cost of any eligible items bought online, plus the original shipping charges in the case that they don't arrive or are significantly different from their description.

For those items being bought in person, or via a website that doesn't use PayPal, and that cost more than £100 and less than £30,000, use a credit card for protection offered under Section 75. Under this section, for items that aren't delivered, faulty or damaged, customers have a right to be refunded if they make a claim within 6 years.

If you are selling

Selling through suppliers

If the equipment you are selling is in good condition, and was originally purchased from a specialist retailer, you may find that the same supplier is prepared to buy back the equipment from you, or offer part-exchange on another purchase.

The following local disability equipment suppliers buy and sell second hand items. For further information about these, please see pages 14-19 of this information sheet.

NB. British Red Cross accept donations of equipment only – for further details about British Red Cross equipment please refer to our 'Equipment Hire and Loan Services' information sheet (P08).

Selling by advertising

There is a good choice of advertising media to choose from if you decide to advertise. Many newspapers offer free advertising for private small ads or free space if the article for sale is under a certain value. If you have access to the Internet, you will find quite a number of websites offering free advertising. However, responses may come from a considerable distance away from where you live.

The list on the following pages is not necessarily comprehensive. Details were correct at the time of publication, but may have changed subsequently. Inclusion in the list does not indicate a recommendation or endorsement. You are advised to take every precaution before entering into an agreement to purchase.
